

This site is intended for prospective Game Design students and their parents, to provide more information about the program and GMU itself. It's also intended to inform the user about VSGI and MGTA (Virginia Serious Games Institute and Mason Game and Technology Academy), which are organizations that work with the Game Design program, by linking to their respective websites.

<https://game.gmu.edu/>